Australian Alpaca
ASSOCIATION

The Queensland Breeders Directory is a complimentary service provided by the Queensland Region of the Australian Alpaca Association for its full-paying members, Associate members & Youth Educational Institutions.

You don't need to be actively breeding alpacas to be included—just ensure you are a financial member of the AAA.

This directory serves as a valuable tool for other alpaca owners or those interested in alpacas, helping them connect with members for sales or support.

Preparing for Shearing – Tips & Reminders

All alpacas need shearing every year, and Qld has a few shearers to choose from that travel around the state. Most shearers are in Qld for August and September only, so you need to have a shearer booked by around May/June to make sure you don't miss out on getting your animals shorn. The shearers have a pretty tight schedule while in Qld, so you need to be prepared for when they arrive.

Shade & Shelter

Ensure your animals are in a secure, shaded area before the shearer arrives. They won't be able to help prepare your yards. Shearers cannot shear wet animals so if rain is forecast, undercover areas are essential to keep animals dry.

Health Checks

Most shearers will trim teeth and toenails if necessary, and may administer injections like 5-in-1. Always check in advance if these services are offered if you require them.

Power Requirements

Some shearers may need access to power. Confirm this when booking.

Fleece Handling

If you plan to use your fleece for showing or craft purposes, it's important to handle it correctly from the start. Use proper fleece bags, one for saddle (this is your highest quality fibre) One for neck and one for legs and belly (this is coarser and less desirable for end product) Proper handling and clear labeling (Name of animal and year) from the beginning ensures your fleece stays clean, organized, and valuable for its intended purpose.

Fleece Samples for Testing

Collect a sample at shearing time if you'd like it tested for micron as this helps to work out what you can use your fleece for. Your shearer can help with this if you let them know—just put the sample in a zip-lock bag, clearly labelled with the animal's name and the date.

Disclaimer: This list includes shearers known to operate in the Queensland Region. Please note, we cannot offer recommendations or assume responsibility for the results of any shearing services. We encourage you to conduct your own independent research when selecting a shearer.

This Queensland Region Breeders' Directory is a free publication issued by the Queensland Region of the Australian Alpaca Association in support of its membership.

Our breeders are located across most areas of Queensland and operate in a diverse range of conditions. Many of our breeders have stock that have adapted to the Queensland environment.

If you are new to the industry, your interactions with breeders should be firstly about whether alpacas are “right for me”, the commitment you can make and the conditions they will live in. Whilst alpacas are lovely animals, they are not for everyone or for every location.

Useful links can be found at the Australian Alpaca Association website
<https://alpaca.asn.au>

AAA registered breeders should be able to give you advice on buying your animals.

Look for the AAA Logo!
